

Vacancy open for our offices in Nuremberg, Germany:

STUDENT WORK: CONTENT LOCALISATION - POLISH / ITALIAN

Start your career at NEXUS / E&L GmbH and gain valuable experience in fascinating projects.

- + Do you see typographical errors everywhere?
- + Do your friends and family tease you for being pedantic and writing out full messages and correct grammar, even on texts and social media?

Your skills are valuable!

NEXUS / E&L GmbH is the leading German developer of software solutions for the documentation of medical imaging and findings. Present in more than 490 hospitals and clinics nationwide, our success is the result of 33 years of innovation as well as close interaction with our clients. Join our team and help us support hospitals across Europe to improve their documentation.

We are hiring part-time native linguists for our localisation team.

- + You will be joining a small but growing team of linguists within the Medical Development division.
- + Are you an early bird or a late riser? Plan your work flexibly around your university schedule.
- + Do you enjoy liaising with people from various fields? We are an agile and dynamic team of developers, managers and designers.

What to expect

- + Modern work environment in a forward-thinking team
- + Possibility of remote work
- + Thorough training
- + Opportunity to make valuable connections in the corporate as well as linguistic worlds
- + Opportunity to contribute and implement your own ideas
- + Free coffee and mineral water as well as attractive corporate benefits
- + You will work part-time (8-10 h/week) on a EUR 520 basis, at EUR 13/h.

About you

- + You are in your final year of your Bachelor's or have started your Master's Degree in linguistic studies (translation, philology or similar).
- + Your mother tongue and first language is Polish or Italian (please abstain if you are a bilingual speaker with less than complete command of the written target language).
- + You have at least C1 in German and excellent English (any other languages are much appreciated).
- + You are very detail oriented, thorough and patient.
- + You are comfortable with computers and like to discover new software.
- + You are proactive and can work independently as well as within a team.
